How to use this guide

This guide is for all Yukoners.

It lists service providers that offer free and low-cost services in mental and physical wellness, counselling and addiction support, financial assistance, housing and shelters, food and showers, and children and family supports.

Overviews are succinct and use plain language. All entries are in Whitehorse unless noted in the street address.

The sections in this guide are listed alphabetically. Organizations and programs are also listed in alphabetical order under each section heading. Organizations that offer more than one service may be listed in more than one section.

Help yourself.
Help someone else.

The Yukon Anti-Poverty Coalition facilitates the elimination of poverty through awareness, education, advocacy, community building and action.
